

Preparedness and Vigilance in Health Care Today

December 7, 2023

1:00—3:00 pm

Webinar

Description

This training is meant to increase the conversation and awareness surrounding security, law enforcement and health care. It will provide organizational members with additional topics to help them feel more comfortable and prepared in the workplace. It will review current trends and topics relating to health care and law enforcement, current statistics for Minnesota and being prepared for high-risk situations. The session will cover some basics on campus safety and site safety, de-escalation, working with law enforcement, and basic scenarios to help prepare leaders and front-line workers. The session is meant to be a springboard for individuals and departments to build upon their current foundations of policies, procedures, and training.
